Happy Easter

Alleluia

And in the end of the sabbath, when it began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalen and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre.

And behold there was a great earthquake. For an angel of the Lord descended from heaven and coming rolled back the stone and sat upon it.

And his countenance was as lightning and his raiment as snow. And for fear of him, the guards were struck with terror and became as dead men.

And the angel answering, said to the women: Fear not you: for I know that you seek Jesus who was crucified. He is not here. For he is risen, as he said. Come, and see the place where the Lord was laid.

And going quickly, tell ye his disciples that he is risen. And behold he will go before you into Galilee. There you shall see him. Lo, I have foretold it to you.

And they went out quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy, running to tell his disciples.

We pray that the holiness of this blessed day be upon you and that it will be a source that will bring about your holy salvation. The Redemption of man by the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ is the reason for all that has happened over the past few days.

Alleluia

The real reason why we find it so difficult to concentrate all our efforts on regulating our lives according to the expectations of Divine Love is that we instinctively feel that this demands the complete surrender of our lives to God. We feel also that these demands focus too much attention to the ills of the world which confront the people of God and which ask for complete severance from the world and all of its styles and atmosphere and allurements. We therefore conclude that these demands ask for too much! There is nothing so intimate to us, so closely knit to the very fiber, the very element of our being, as our free activity and our freedom to hold fast to our self ordained dominion over the way we have decided to live life. To detach ourselves from the climate of the world's propositions requires a courage which is found in few people. Nevertheless, an ultimate decision must be clearly made as to whether we will or will not work to fulfill the purpose for which we were created.

Alleluia

Our Lord wants interior souls! He wants generous souls! He wants souls who will apply themselves to contemplation, and who do not count the cost of things that pertain to God. God wants great and noble souls in the practice of virtue, who imitate closely the religious virtues of the early disciples of our Holy Religion, whose only thirst was thirst for sanctity.

Jesus wants an enclosed garden. Only God knows how to make a garden beautiful. In this new century — new millennium — Almighty God needs a Spiritual Ark, and He commands us, to construct such an ark, just as once He commanded Noah to build a physical ark for the safety of himself and his family. This Spiritual Ark will be the place of safety and peace for us; a place where God can come to be consoled. The place where we can best give safety, and protection and consolation to Our Blessed Lord is the place of the Ark of the Heart of Man. God doesn't want something new: a new congregation, a new practice, or a new devotion. He does not want religious innovation, religious experimentation! He looks for the condition of the heart of the Man who must look to His loving Son, Jesus, for instruction, and who places the Holy Crucifix before his eyes for his contemplation, knowledge and love. Nothing else will do.

Alleluia

A Thought To Remember ...

God does not do anything in this world of ours, without the help of His creatures.

Alleluia

Therefore, must we be dedicated to a more religious approach to a life which calls for prayer, penance, mortification and sacrifice.
